

Why join the IBE?

The IBE's purpose is to champion the highest standards of ethical behaviour in business.

We believe that an investment in business ethics drives sustainable business benefits, including higher levels of staff engagement, better and more consistent decision-making, and heightened levels of trust.

The IBE:

- Advocates the importance of ethical behaviour in business
- Advises businesses and business leaders on how to achieve the highest standards of behaviour based on ethical values
- Undertakes research and thought leadership in support of the application of ethical values at all levels in organisations.

How we work

We work closely with organisations to understand their needs and identify best practice in order to raise awareness of ethical issues and provide practical solutions.

- We publish regular research reports, discussion papers, briefings and blogs to promote awareness and debate on business ethics issues
- We run a comprehensive series of conferences, lectures, networking events and webinars to share the latest thought leadership
- We offer public and bespoke training courses to develop the understanding and skills of all with an interest in business ethics
- We provide advisory services including reviews and benchmarking of company ethics policies, programmes and codes
- We offer practical tools on Speak Up, anti-bribery and corruption (Say No), employee sentiments (Ethics at Work Staff Survey) and the Business Ethics Toolkit - a simple and affordable approach to design a suitable ethics framework.
